

Shakespeare's Pizza

Form for people who think they want to work here

OUR MISSION STATEMENT: IT'S THE PIZZA, STUPID.....

Working at Shakespeare's Pizza is not like working anywhere else (restaurant or otherwise). Of course, any employer is going to say that, but we really mean it. We've been here over thirty years. Thirty years!!! There are a few outfits that have been serving food longer than that, but dang few, big chain, small chain, independent or otherwise. We must be doing something different... something right.

What's happening is that we're throwing a party, in essence... it's lots of work, but still, it's a party. We're the hosts, and the customers are the guests at the party. We will do for our customers – who flatter us by visiting us – the same things that we would do for friends invited by us to our homes for a party. We work our tails off taking care of the folks who come to our party, while treating each other like humans. We don't look at the clock... we look at the customers. Of course we get tired sometimes, everybody does; but we'd never let the customers know it. We all wipe the counter, the table, and the porcelain in the bathrooms. While we're throwing the party, we have as much fun as we can, and still get the job done. Sure it's a job and it's work. We hustle, we carry 25# cases of pizza sauce around, we bus tables with heavy loads of dirty dishes, we run from one end of the restaurant to the other when we have to take care of our customers. Working here is an athletic, physical, aerobic event, with lots of conversation and social interaction with our customers. If that's not you, stop now.

It's the attitude that we have makes the difference – for our customers and for us – between a party, and just another room with stuff on the walls where you can eat something. Working here really isn't like working anywhere else.

We pay more, but you'll earn it. No uniforms, but we do have a dress code. No Nazi bosses from hell, but we have high expectations. More free pizza than you can stand. Discounts on food even when you are off, no silly rules about one entrée at half price per shift worked. Several times a year we throw great employee parties, and we sponsor employee softball teams and canoe trips. (A side note: we don't care if you smoke, but if you can't go 3-5 hours without a cig break, then stop now.)

If this doesn't sound exciting and fun, then save a tree and give us back this app. Otherwise, fill it out. If you make the cut, you will learn a lot, gain valuable job experience, be treated like a human, earn a good wage, face real world challenges and be a part of one of the landmark icons of this town... and you will work your tail off.

If this sounds fun, makes sense, seems challenging – if you get it – then you're probably hired already.

If not, thanks for being a fan and thinking of us.
