Substitutions definitely allowed. Youse pays your money, youse gets what youse wants. We also split/separate checks.

Pizza Lovers' Passion: Choose any four toppings, STOAM, NOT STOAM, or otherwise, and add another for free.

The Vegetarian: Extra Cheese, Red Onions, Mushrooms, Black Olives and Green Peppers. Order this. It's good for you.

The Meat Lover's: Pepperoni, Canadian Bacon, Italian Sausage, Lean Ground Beef, Breakfast Bacon. Don't order this. It's not good for you. We'll charge up the defibrillator just in case.

The Darwin Named in honor of our former mayor, and his respect for bicycles, badminton, borscht, beer, and other healthy-lifestyle stuff: Red Onions, Green Peppers, Artichoke Hearts, Tomatoes, and Turkey

The Masterpiece

Eight Inch: $10.15 Twelve: $20.10 Sixteen: $31.25

Includes all of the toppings in the STOAM (Stuff On A Masterpiece) list above. This is a very stupidly large amount of food. Yes, the big one is thirty clams, but it's a meal for four... it's got over a pound of meat, over a half pound of cheese, and more vegetables than a rabbit farm.

Catering: We've catered 15 to 3500.

Discounts start with groups of about 35: $3-6 per person. Our place or yours. Advance notice helps us give you better service.

Extra Dressing Packets $0.24
 Yes, they're a quarter. That's what they cost us. It's the good stuff.

We also have larger versions of all our salads that serve from 6-12. Ask an order taker phone/counter guy about them.

👉 Other Eats 👈

Cheese Garlic Bread $5.49
 Made with real butter... a great appetizer. Five slices of French bread with garlic butter and our provolone pizza cheese

Frozen Pizzas are available here and at grocers from St Louis to K.C. We can also ship our frozen pizzas anywhere in the lower 48; ask for details.

Fundraising: We have several ways to make money for you. We let you foist our reputation to your unsuspecting friends and neighbors, and you keep the profits. It works, mostly because so many people seem to think that our pizza is good. All the details are on our website, or you can send a smoke signal or telegram or phone call to one of our managers, and they'll steer you straight.

👉 Libations 👈

Look up "libation." We dare you

Soft Drinks: We offer a wide variety of sodas, in 20 oz bottles as well as from our fountain. We offer Pepsi AND Coke. Free refills (no, not forever, just per visit) when you purchase one of our Shakes Cups (keep the cup!)

Our Iced Tea is brewed fresh daily (actually, several times a day.) Our coffee is always fresh because we drink it continuously to offset what happened last night. Free refills.

We stock a wide variety of beers (tap, bottle, import, domestic, micro, etc.) and wines; we also have a full bar at our South and Downtown locations. The variety changes more often than this menu does, so you'll just have to see what we have.

👉 Other Junk 👈

T-shirts, Hats & Such are available if you like us so much that you want to help us foist our capitalistic propaganda on the world. Selection varies with the season and the whim of the little old lady that knits the stuff; check at the counter or our Gift Shop at www.shakespeares.com.

Private Party/Meeting Rooms: They're available for 15 to 150. A/V hookups for your laptops, and you get to goof with the volume knob

Gift Cards are available in any denomination. They work at all our locations world wide. Gift boxes (pizza boxes) included. Quantity discounts available; we'll put your company logo on the envelope!

Cash, checks (with Missouri DL and bank) and MasterCard, AMEX, Discover and Visa are accepted. We can set up billing accounts for businesses and organizations; see the manager.

We Deliver to the downtown area, all the campuses, and neighborhoods nearby; the West and South stores cover those areas. Our drivers carry minuscule amounts of cash, usually just the change for the order. Gratuity, when appropriate, is appreciated.

Heart Healthy Pizza and the Food Pyramid

Many consider pizza to be junk food, and, boy howdy, are they misinformed. It all depends on what you order. If you order the right things, a pizza can be as close to an exact duplicate of the food pyramid as one dish can be.

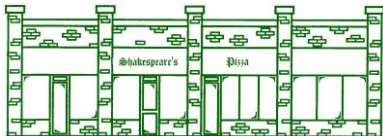

Start with the grains and cereals at the base of the pyramid: that's what the crust of a pizza is. Next is the fruits and veggies part of the pyramid: order pizza sauce, and any of the fruits (tomatoes, pineapple, etc) or veggies that you want to make up that layer. Next, go light on some meats and the cheese, and you have a duplicate of the food pyramid.

We use a high-quality provolone cheese, and high-quality means high butterfat content. So to make a low fat pizza, stay away from double cheese; asking for "light cheese" is a way to keep good flavor and cut way down on the fat. All the meats that we use are the leanest of their kind, but they do contain some fat. But most everything else is low fat, so we've made the list at right of all the things that you can order as much of as you want and still be low fat.

Vegans: there are no animal products at all in our dough or sauce. Start with a no-cheese pizza (we do it all the time) and add any veggies you want.

Gluten Free Crust! It's only in the 12" (because that's what they make) and it's a couple of bucks more (our cost). Also, it's prepared in a restaurant with LOTS of flour, so you'll ingest trace amounts of flour just walking in the joint, even though we use separate utensils for the gluten-less pizzas. But if trace amounts are okay, we use the same toppings and cheese and sauce, and they aren't half bad at all. We have a few customers who order the gluten-less pizzas just because they like them, even though they are fine with flour.

Shakespeare's Pizza

BOONE COUNTY, MISSOURI

Here at Shakespeare's Pizza, we often receive compliments from our customers saying that ours is Columbia's finest pizza. We are proud of this reputation and do everything that we can to maintain it.

We make our own dough fresh, from scratch, continually throughout each day. We use premium Stanislaus pizza sauces, and add a bit of our own spices. We cut our own pepperoni, because no one supplies it thick enough. Our Italian sausage is a Shakespeare's exclusive mix. All our toppings and ingredients are the very best that we can find, and we pile them on like nobody else. And we still use the old-fashioned stone-hearth ovens; nothing cooks up a crust the way they do.

We do it all right out in front of you, in the front window. We invite you to come down and watch us make Columbia's finest for you.

Have you had a piece... today?
